I work fulltime as a Jewish faith-based coach, under the flag of Beit-Zata. My multifaceted approach to coaching, lectures, and audio messages are tools, to inspire people.

Torah:

The Torah, the foundational text of Judaism, holds immense wisdom and guidance. By incorporating its teachings into my coaching, I am able to empower individuals to navigate life's challenges with spiritual insight.

Jewish Roots:

Understanding and celebrating Jewish heritage is essential. By exploring the historical, cultural, and spiritual roots, I help people connect to their identity and purpose.

Israel:

The land of Israel carries deep significance for Jews worldwide. Whether discussing its history, culture, or contemporary issues, my insights may foster a deeper appreciation for this sacred land.

Building Bridges:

Bridging gaps between diverse groups is a challenge. But with commitment to fostering understanding and dialogue creates pathways for unity and mutual respect.

HaShem gives me as “Mamme D’Vorah” an unique ability to connect with religious executives and leaders. Through faith-based coaching, I may uplift hearts, strengthen faith, and guide individuals toward purposeful living. now und

Founder Machananyim Family and Bootcamp House

Founder Machananyim

May 2010 - May 2022 (12 years 1 month)

Beerta, Groningen, Netherlands

Founder of Machananyim Family and Bootcamp House

I dedicated 12 years and 1 month to empowering women.

The impact was profound, especially for those who faced unemployment and personal challenges.

With honor to my G-d, I was able to help them regain discipline, find purpose, and help them to restore their lives. When they entered the Machanayim Family Home, they felt like they had nothing to offer, but under guidance, they transformed.

Some secured jobs, while others regained a sense of self-worth.

This work exemplifies the essence of Women Of Power (WOP)—lifting others up and empowering them to overcome adversity.

Account Manager

March 1990 - May 1994 (4 years 3 months)

Made

Account manager I served as the primary point of contact, bridging the gap between our organization and our clients. I was responsible for ensuring that our customers received clear and comprehensive final reports. Maintaining strong relationships between our organization and our valued customers.

The final investigation, conducted by a professionally trained telephone team.— where it was specifically checked whether the services that companies promised to provide were carried out professionally and accurately.

My oversight ensured that our organization maintained its commitment to excellence.

As the main point of contact for many clients, I was involved in upselling and cross-selling products and services.

By identifying additional needs and opportunities, I was able to contribute to our business growth.
